Summary

" Separating and unifying values: trails of west-eastern values" , should bet the criterion of choice for our search on values, which we started in our Grundtvig learning partnership SUVal together with participants from Germany, England, France, Italy, Poland and Austria. At first we had been concerned with values, which we found in belief, education and finally in the cohabitation of the three Abrahamic religions, values in Europe, which shaped mostly our culture and specially our morals. But since two thousand years our „Christian occident“ Europe is not only shaped by Judaism, Christianity and Islam but also got new shapes by „profane“ events like the French Revolution with its secular ("laic") values. These traditional values changed in the era of globalisation under the influence of economy and trade, politics, communication, commerce and traffic: new values came into being. Our search should find them, too. –
Our workshops in Vienna (26 -29 10 08), Tübingen (12 – 15 03 09), Lodz (18 – 20 06 09), Florence (22 – 25 10 09) and Witchford (virtual 15 -17 04 2010) brought us by the work of preparation, accomplishment and deepening afterward closer to the topics and to new knowledge. In the final workshop in Auvillar we try to communicate the positions in the countries we are coming from and the local results of the learning partnership. So we have to make acquaintance to the French „Sonderweg“, the laïcité and its „laïc values“. This concept of a secular society is actually world over in conflict with fundamental movements, but laïcité not seems to abate the tensions between state and religions. – Finally we want to look in the future of our handling of values. We have to learn about the intercultural an interreligious dialogue and exchange examples for good practice in our counties.
